Please use the parking lot south of the train station or if you don't mind a short walk, use the lower commuter lot at the north end of the train station, just over the rail road tracks. The north end of the parking lot is no longer available because of all the new vendors this season.

Market Patrons please be courteous and remember not to park in the Tuxedo Post Office Parking spaces to shop at the market. Pass this information along to visiting friends and family.

Don't forget to forward the Tuxedo Farmers' Market Newsletter to interested family and friends, and stop by the Market Manager's tent with any questions or suggestions regarding the Tuxedo Farmers' Market.
